HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.
The Great Remedies for all Diseases of the LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts,) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.
Those preferring a Medicine free from Alchoholic admixture, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.
Those who have no objection to the combination of the bitters, as stated, will use
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.
The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as it does with the stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:
Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a lying posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.
The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his cure, purchasing only which he is assured from its investigation and inquiries possesses true merit, is skillfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well known remedies—
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,
Prepared by DR. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.
Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany, during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.
These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Diseases of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,
Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.
There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.
PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,
And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will prove in many instances more potent in restoring in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.
It is a well established fact that fully one half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; they are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite, or, to use their own expression, never feel well.
To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN,
Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail. Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.
HON. GEORGE W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 18, 1767.
"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases arising from debility, and in want of nervous action in the system.
Yours, truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."
HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.
Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.
"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON."
FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear conviction of the merits of Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and reliable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.
FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.
Yours truly,
E. D. FENDALL.

IF WE KNEW.

If we know the cares and crosses
Crowding round our neighbors' way,
If we knew the little losses
Sorely grievous day by day;
Would we then so often chide him,
For his lack of thrift and gain,
Leaving on his heart a shadow—
Leaving on our life a stain?

If we knew the clouds above us,
Held by gentle blessings there,
Would we turn away all trembling
In our blind and weak despair?
Would we shrink from little shadows
Lying on the dewy grass,
While 'tis only birds of Eden,
Just in mercy flying past.

If we knew the silent story,
Quivering through the heart of pain,
Would our manhood dare to doom them
Back to haunts of guilt again?
Life hath many a tangled crossing,
Joy hath many a break of woe,
And the cheek tear-stained is whitest,
This the blessed angels know.

Let us reach into our bosoms,
For the key to others' lives,
And, with love toward erring nature,
Cherish good that still survives;
So that when our disrobed spirits
Soar to realms of light again,
We may say, "Dear Father judge us
As we judge our fellow-man."

OUR BABY.

A BACHELOR'S EXPERIENCE WITH IT.

It was a very pretty baby—that is, for a baby. I had no fault to find with it so far as its individual identity was concerned. If babies must exist—and I suppose there is a necessity for the thing, or else where would all the grown people come from?—this baby was as well in its way as any other baby.

I mention these facts, merely to prove that I am in no way prejudiced. As far as mortal man can be, I am entirely an impartial witness.

It was fast asleep in its cradle,—a little white-headed doll, with its long dark eye-lashes, and a crimson dot of a mouth, against which lay its tiny fist, with five well-defined dimples in the five joints thereof. It was fast asleep, I say, when Bertha came airily into the room.

"I am going over to the depot to see mother off, Joseph. "I'll be back in half an hour. Just keep an eye to the baby, while I am gone, will you?"

I looked blankly at my sister. But while I was considering how best to express my total dissent from her audacious proposition, she tripped out of the room, her ribbons fluttering in the soft spring air.

Silence doesn't always give consent, but Bertha had taken it for granted, in this matter, and I was left an unwilling guardian of my little nephew.

However, he was fast asleep; that was one circumstance in my favor. Mortal baby couldn't present a more innocent and cherubic aspect than he did. So I calmly went on with my writing, soon becoming oblivious to his infantile presence.

"Talk about tending babies," quoth I to myself, dipping my goose quill triumphantly in the ink, "why it's the easiest business in life. I should never spend my money hiring nurses, if that little one was mine; but women never do know how to economize properly."

As these fancies passed through my mind, the baby woke up and sneezed.

I gave the cradle an oscillatory kick, and then burst forth into the well known burden of "Bye a baby bunting," but the little villain absolutely declined to shut his eyes again, like a sensible baby. He opened them wider than miniature moons, stared at me with an air of malevolence that made me a firm believer in human depravity ever since, and deliberately began to cry. And the harder I rocked the cradle and the louder I sang, the more resolute did that baby cry.

"He's hungry," thought I to myself. "Babies must be fed, and it's highly reprehensible of Bertha to stay away so long."

So I went down into the pantry and instituted a search for some milk; which I had a vague idea was the diet generally preferred by toothless infancy. But milk there was none. Lamp oil, Stewart's syrup, kerosene, brandy; everything but milk was there; every known or conceivable fluid, in aggravating profusion, but not a drop of milk.

All this time meanwhile, the roars of my nephew but slightly softened by distance, followed me about like a Nemesis.

I rushed frantically up stairs, armed with a lump of sugar, the first soothing expedient that suggested itself to me.

"Bless its dear little heart, there, there; confound your racket, can't you keep still? Take its sugar from its own, own uncle, that's a little golden boy."

But the golden boy resolutely rejected the sugar, screaming louder than ever; as its lungs were forty baby power, and warranted never to tire out. It kicked and struggled, it pawed the air, it got purple in the face. Ashes of King Herod and all the Egyptians! what was a man to do?

In vain I executed a war dance around its cradle; in vain I rang the dinner bell, and jingled the china ornaments, and waved the feather duster, and swung my gold repeater, and bawled nursery ballads at the top of my lungs. Talk about perseverance. Robert Bruce's spider was nothing to that atrocious little lump of mortality.

"There's nothing for it but to capitulate," said I to myself, as I jammed my hat on my head, viciously thrust my arm into my overcoat, and seized the baby out of the cradle.

Leave it absolutely alone I dared not, and the nearest grocery where milk was procurable lay three blocks off!

Thus, in a sort of stony despair, I issued forth from the house, carrying my persecutor like a bundle under one arm.

I thought he would stop crying when he got into the open air, but not he; oxygen only seemed to increase the shrill power of his villainous little pipes! People turned to stare at me, as if I were an escaped lunatic or an abductor of infant innocence. Women looked indignantly at the baby.

Blue worsted socks and little pink legs kicked blindly from beneath my arms. Children ran after me, dogs barked, but I kept doggedly on my way; walking into the grocery with a resolution second only to that of the Roman fellow who jumped into a crater, nobody knows how many years ago.

"A pint of milk, if you please."

"Milk, sir? Have you brought anything to put it in?"

I thought of my tobacco box, my pocket handkerchief, the corner of my hat, all of the impracticable places for the deposit of the lacteal fluid.

"I never thought of that!" I said, righting the baby, who came head uppermost with a very crimson countenance, and eyes looking defiantly into mine; eyes that said as if they had spoken in so many syllables, "I won't stop crying! I'll die first!"

The storekeeper looked on sympathetically.

"I could sell you a nice little pitcher, sir, if—"

"The very idea," I interrupted, "A pitcher of milk, and please take the change out of this portemonnaie, for if I had three pairs of hands I couldn't more than hold this kicking little demon with 'em!"

"Well, sir," said the storekeeper, "he does seem a rare 'un for usin' his legs, let alone his legs. Yes, sir, thank'ee, sir!"

Now, I have always laid it up as a grudge against human nature that that unprincipled grocery-man took a five dollar bill out of my portemonnaie, knowing that I should not discover it, until it was too late to rectify the error!

(I wouldn't have treated a Turk so!)

I took my pitcher of milk with my right hand, still balancing the baby skillfully against my left arm and side, started for home.

"Now, I'll settle your business, my fine young friend," I thought. "Is it possible that I was ever such an incorrigible nuisance as this?"

But my triumph was speedily reduced to the lowest pitch of humiliation.

"Dear me, Mr. Beverly, is it possible that this is you?"

It was Kate Milton's self, radiant in spring bonnet, lilac silk walking dress, close-fringed parasol, and the daintiest of lilac kid gloves. Kate Milton, with an air of astonishment that served to make her one degree prettier than ever.

My first instinct was to run and flee ignominiously, my second was to drop my nephew and his milk into the gutter, and resolutely deny all connection with them; my third prompted me to stand my ground.

"Yes, it is I, Miss Milton—a—fine day."

Kate eyed me dubiously, and no wonder. One sock, curling and twisting as if a serpent were inside of it instead of a baby's foot, appeared beneath my coat skirts, flanked by about a quarter of a yard of Swiss embroidery and tucks, woefully cramped by the fiery ordeal through which we had both passed; the milk (confound it!) had dripped adown the full length of my pearl-colored pantaloons, and my hat, bent and bruised, was thrust rakishly on the side of my head. I was gloveless, flushed and dishevelled, and take me "for all in all," must have appeared considerably like a pick-pocket, or an old clothesman out for a walk.

I passed on, followed by the sound of taint, subdued laughter—a sound that stung me to the quick.

So Kate and her companion were laughing at me; this was indeed, the unkindest cut of all. I resolved never to dance the German with Kate Milton again.

The house was quiet and deserted as I returned and inserted my night key in the little circular lock. What could have become of Bertha? The cold dew oozed out of my brow as I, for one instant, contemplating the horrible possibility of my being left, a sort of modern Robinson Crusoe, with that diabolical little man Friday on my hands.

Nonsense! there was no probability of that. I sat down on Bertha's low rocking chair, and planting the baby firmly on my knee, applied the spout of the pitcher to his mouth.

Would you believe it? He would not drink a drop. He screwed his mouth as tightly shut as if he never intended to open it again, and doubled himself over backwards with a strength of will which would have been remarkable in a full grown man, but simply marvellous in a ten months old baby. I persevered and he persevered. I poured the milk over his neck, his embroidered dress waist, and his coral amulets; he would have been drowned sooner than to open his mouth half a quarter of an inch. Probably, of such stuff were our revolutionary fathers made; and this baby had, though some inscrutable blunder of Dame Nature, come into the world just a century too late.

I put him back into the cradle, flat on his spinal column, and looked at him more in sorrow than in anger.

"My youngster," I addressed him, "cry your lungs out—break a blood vessel or two if agreeable to you—fracture your trachea! I can't be held legally responsible for it, thank Providence."

I took up a book and sat down by the cradle, rocking it recklessly backwards and forwards, regardless of the screams which still rent the air. I wasn't going to waste my time any more trying to quiet him. Let him cry! This is a free country!

"Why, Joe! what's the matter?"

It was Bertha's voice. I jumped up as if a cannon ball had smitten me, and dashed my book upon the floor.

"Matter, ma'am? matter? The matter is that I'm going mad. I shall be a fit subject for a lunatic asylum in just about fifteen minutes more."

But I might as well have wasted my despairing eloquence on a blank wall. She did not heed nor hear me. She was loading the little wretch with caresses, pity and blandishments. And—I should not have credited the sudden turn of affairs, if I hadn't witnessed it with my own eyes—the baby absolutely laughed up in her face as if to say "I have given my uncle a pretty good time of it."

"Has he been good, uncle Joe?"

I looked volumes at my sister.

"Bertha, if you ever leave me again in charge of that—that little atrocity, I'll commit suicide."

"You needn't speak so loud," said my sister, in an injured voice. "I intended to have been home before, but the train was delayed; and—bless its heart did it want to come to mamma's arms—and was Uncle Joseph crosser than an old bear, and wasn't it the sweetest little rosebud that ever—"

I waited to hear no more, but rushed precipitately out the room, convinced that of all fools a young mother was the most hopeless specimen.

That's the last time I have had the heir of the family confided to my guardianship. I think Bertha a little afraid to leave me alone in the room with him. "So mote it be."

Intemperance.

Intemperance is one of the greatest evils courted by man. It is one of those suicidal habits which promotes valetudinary tendencies, eats up our substance, and eventually lays us in a premature grave. Why do men contaminate the body with the use of vile, unwholesome and stimulating beverages, merely to satisfy their foolish desires. Why do men allow their inclinations to invite that foul poison which is the fatal vehicle which conveys death to their door? Spirituous liquors are slow but sure poisons. The loathsome effects do not become visible for some time, because the mischief is contained and working within; but at length it bursts forth, conquers strength and invites death. If we knew the manner in which spirituous liquors are manufactured, we should turn from them in disgust. The greater part of the liquors sold throughout the country, and represented to be genuine, are nothing more than noxious distillations, and yet this same filthy trash is gluted down by thousands with gusto and smacking of lips to behold. Why is it such a popular beverage? Is it because it is superior to water? No! it is because habit has conquered our resolution and defeated our self-respect and common sense.—What is this self-denial of which men seem bereft? Is it something foreign to the human mind? It is nothing more than that little word "no," which men have discarded from their vocabulary of common sense, and given place to the more substantial "yes," to suit their purpose. A man that drinks one or more glasses of liquor a day, and when told that he should not entertain such an affectionate regard for the article, quickly ejaculates that he does not. Then why in the name of common reason does he drink it? Ah! because he has not the spirit intellectual, the resolution or the self-denial to contradict his very foolish desire.—Look at the young man entering a drinking saloon for the first time; he enters, entertaining the miserable belief that it looks manly; and with a glass of poison in one hand, a billiard cue in the other, a cigar in his mouth and a five dollar bill in his pocket, he pronounces himself a finished gentleman, and fully initiated to enter the circles of respectable society. Why you beardless fool, respectable society would not recognize you! Keep on in your egotistic beliefs and dissipated habits, add more fuel to the already kindled fire, stir up the coals of your desires, keep up your thirst in a blaze and your brain continually overheated, and if at the expiration of three or five years, you are not completely burned out, then it is because you are a salamander, and we vain prognosticators. A drop of water every day, dripping upon a stone will in time wear through it; a glass of rum every day dripping down your throats will, invariably, be effectual in promoting your premature demise, and perhaps as a general feeling, much to the satisfaction of those to whom you have been an unceasing and disagreeable trouble. If you can't abstain from the "Beverage of Hell," don't remain to disgrace connection and friends, but emigrate to some place where you will be unknown, and have every opportunity to carry out your ruinous purpose to your entire satisfaction.

Many a man has under the influence of liquor become a murderer, paid the forfeiture of his life upon the scaffold, and died an ignominious death. Yes, he has thrown away his life, when, if a temperate man, he might be walking in the paths of life—an honor to himself and society, and basking in the smiles of prosperity. But what a different picture is the first—a victim of Bacchus, convicted of murder and claimed by death. Who would place confidence in a man given to drink, addicted to the visiting of "sample rooms," and a frequenter of the dens of vice?

A woman who will drink rum will do worse. It is bad enough to see a man intoxicated, but when we see a woman crazed with the fumes of liquor it is a sight to be deplored. Who respects a drunkard of either sex, but especially a female? No one can respect them, but they have our pity.—If water cost fifty cents per glass, what a luxury it would be! aye, what a demand would be made to obtain it; but there is a plenty of the article and it costs nothing, therefore it is common, very common, only fit to be mixed with something stronger and more "substantial." Water is a liquor that never intoxicates, never dishonors, never makes men murderers, never injures the body or causes regret.—Young man, beware of the wine cup; touch it not; banish it from your sight, and be an honor to yourself and associates. If you thirst for drink, go to the fountain from which flows the crystal elixir, the invigorating balm of life. WILBER.

ARISTOCRATIC PRIDE.—Among all the varied forms and phases in which pride exhibits itself to the public, there is none more disgusting and ridiculous than that aristocratic or dandied form which it assumes in the persons of those who seem to consider it an indignity to be seen laboring with their hands, or performing any of the drudgeries of life. They think it above the dignity of a gentleman, in which character they would like to be considered, to soil their delicate fingers with a 'mean employment,' as they would call such employment as most men engage in to earn, with honesty, their daily bread. These men of starch and perfume, would look upon it as an everlasting disgrace to be surprised by their consequential acquaintances in the act of rolling a wheelbarrow thro' the streets in the transaction of necessary business, as the immortal Franklin used to do through the streets of Philadelphia, or in carrying provisions from the market like Stephen Girard, or in tilling the soil as did Washington.

This foolish pride is often a heavy tax, levied upon the purse of its possessor, for, often do we see such a person, in order to keep up appearances, expend his money, and subjecting himself almost to starvation, and every domestic inconvenience, to prevent his pride being mortified, and to support his fancied dignity. Such dandied fops are the mere insects of society, as perfectly useless as the guilded butterfly which hovers about the flowers in the sunshine of summer, but is swept away by the cold blasts of autumn.

EARLY INFLUENCES.—There can be no greater blessing than to be born in the light and air of a cheerful and loving home. It not only insures a happy childhood—if there be health and a good constitution—but it also makes sure a virtuous and happy manhood, and a fresh young heart in old age. I think it every parent's duty to try to make their children's childhood full of love and childhood's proper joyousness; and I never see children destitute of them through the poverty, faulty tempers, or wrong notions of their parents, without a heartache.—Not that all the appliances which wealth can buy are necessary to the free and happy unfolding of childhood in body, mind and heart—quite otherwise, God be thanked; but children must at least have love inside the house, and fresh air and good play, and some good companionship outside—otherwise young life runs the greatest danger in the world of withering, or growing stunted, or sour and wrong, or at best prematurely old, and turned inward on itself.—*Dr.

VICTORY AGAIN!

Victory is perched upon the Union Republican banners. The fight has terminated as Union men everywhere anticipated. It was a contest between Revolution and Peace,—the Rebels and their sympathizers voted for Revolution, and in the Southern States where the rebels have intimidated and murdered Union men, Seymour wins, while in the loyal States where Union men have rallied to the support of the Flag and their Country, Grant is triumphantly victorious.

Seymour and Blair, together with their revolutionary platform and sentiments, have been repudiated by the people, and Grant and Colfax have been chosen by them for four years—to preserve and perpetuate all that Loyalty won. We may now look for Peace where there is Strife, and we can hope that President Grant will be as successful in restoring order in the Southern States as he was in quelling the rebellion. There is a glorious future for our country, and the loyal people of to-day have in the words of the Constitution, "formed a more perfect Union, established Justice, insured Domestic Tranquillity, promoted the General Welfare, and secured the blessings of Liberty to ourselves and posterity."

"Let us Have Peace."

The political contest is over, but the motto of General Grant—"Let us have Peace"—which has echoed across the continent from Washington to Maine, and from Maine to California, has not yet lost its significance. When he uttered that sentiment, the fever of political discussion and consequent excitement had not commenced, but he meant it as an expression for the period in which we lived then, and unfortunately in which we still continue to live. Scarcely a day passes by in which we do not hear of some fresh outbreak in the South between the negroes and whites, or of the murder of some Union man who has dared to express his Unionism, or of the killing of some officer of the Government for discharging the duties devolving upon him. This state of feeling has existed for some time in the South, and many a man who has dared to express an opinion in opposition to the rebel clans, has been cruelly dealt with. Judging from the press dispatches, a reign of terror for Union men is existing in that portion of our Republic. We of the North can not fully understand why this should be, and there are those who are ready to defend such disgraceful and rebellious conduct on the part of the Southern people. They say they are overridden and ruled with a tyrant's rod, and that they will resist so long as tyranny continues. This will not do. The people of the South, when we contemplate to what extremes they went to disunite the Union, have no right to claim a free, full and unconditional pardon from the North. But this subject has been well discussed heretofore, and the people of the North have time and again decided it, but the people of the South, stirred up by infatuated leaders, have forgotten the lessons of the past, and are clamoring for their rights—which indeed has been their cry ever since they were a part of the Union.

The people of the South are in a disordered condition. They have entertained delusive hopes that their treason has been forgotten, and that they are ready to be accepted into a share of the Government. Having these hopes, they think it tyranny to behold the military in their midst, and while they do not insult the Government by attacking them, they do resort to venting their anger upon the negro or upon some unprotected Union man. Now, it is the desire of every man who has the welfare of his country at heart to see this "bushwacking," for we can call it by no other name—once and forever stopped. How can the South prosper when each man who goes there is watched and questioned as to his proclivities? How can our Government trust such a community where disaffection exists, and where a spirit of secession would assume gigantic shape and proportion if let alone? Magnanimity with such a people will not succeed, or else it would have sufficed long ere this; but justice, rigidly administered, will succeed where mercy has failed. The spirit of rebellion must be crushed—the rights of every man must be insured—the power of the Government must be made manifest now as it was during the war. It does not need tyranny to do this, but all that is necessary is to have the laws faithfully and impartially administered, and see that each individual, whether black or white, is protected in his rights to life, liberty and property.

To Our Campaign Subscribers.

Campaign subscribers will receive the Globe until the 18th of the present month. Any who may wish the paper continued after that date will please inform us by letter or otherwise. We will be pleased to continue the Globe regularly to all our campaign subscribers, if we can do so without loss. Our terms will be $2 per year—$1 for six months, or 50 cents for three months. Advance payments are desirable—they will pay us best, and enable us to give our patrons a better paper than we otherwise could. The late campaign has been an expensive one to us, and we hope all who feel like sustaining us will not be backward in using their influence to increase our regular circulation and support.

☞ The contest for President and Vice President is over, and Grant and Colfax are elected. The next important position to fill by the Union men of Pennsylvania, is that of United States Senator. Our next Legislature will have that important duty to perform, and if Senators and Representatives will listen to the will of the people, we have no doubt the State will be represented by one of her most able and reliable men. As it was in the nomination for President, it must be in the nomination for United States Senator—the people must make the nomination.

The October Elections.

The official vote of Indiana for Governor is 171,575 for Baker, Rep., and 170,614 for Hendricks, Dem. Baker's majority 961.

The official vote of Ohio for Secretary of State is 267,068 for Sherwood, Rep., and 249,687 for Hubbard, Dem. Sherwood's majority 17,381.

☞ We publish in another column the popular vote of the States in 1864, which will be useful for comparison.

Tremendous Earthquake in California

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21, 1868.

A heavy shock of earthquake occurred at 7:50 this morning. The motion was east and west. Several buildings were thrown down and a considerable number badly damaged on Pine, Battery and Sansom streets.—Near California street the ground sunk, throwing the buildings out of line. At the present writing, 9 a. m., no estimate of the damage can be made, though considered comparatively small. Several severe shocks have followed at intervals since, creating alarm among the people. The shock was felt in great severity at San Jose, where a number of buildings were considerably injured.

Survey city shows the principal damage by the earthquake was confined to the lower portion below Montgomery street and among old buildings. Numerous houses in that portion of the city were abandoned, and have been pulled down. The Custom House brick building, on the pile of ground which was badly shattered by the earthquake of October, 1865, was considered unsafe, and the officials removed to the revenue building. Business, in the lower part of the city, has been suspended. The streets are thronged with people, and great excitement prevails. Parapette walls and chimneys of a number of buildings were thrown down, resulting in loss of life. The damage will not exceed one million dollars.

At Oakland the shock was severe, throwing down chimneys and greatly damaging numerous buildings. The ground opened in several places. A strong sulphurous smell was noticed immediately after the shock. The Court House at San Leandis was completely demolished and one life lost.—From various portions of the country and vicinity of Francisco Bay shocks are reported severe, and considerable damage was sustained. In many places the earth opened and water gushed forth.

Second Despatch.

October 22—1¼ p. m.—The streets are crowded. Excited multitudes are discussing the particulars of the disastrous earthquake. Twelve shocks were felt during the day. The general direction was northerly and southerly, though some descriptions give a rotary motion.

The greatest damage extends in a belt several hundred feet wide, running about northwest and southeast, commencing near the Custom House and entering Falsome street wharf, injuring and demolishing some twelve buildings in its course. At the corner of Market and First streets, the ground opened fissure several inches wide and forty or fifty feet long, and at other places the ground opened and water forced its way above the surface. The City Hall may be considered an entire wreck. The courts have all adjourned. The prisoners were taken from the station houses to the county jail.

Another Earthquake.

San Francisco, Oct. 23, 2:15 a. m.—Another severe shock of earthquake has occurred here, and has sent the people shrieking with terror into the streets. It is impossible to tell at present whether any more damage has been sustained by the shattered buildings or any lives lost. The streets are thronged with people in their nightclothes, fearful of what may come next. The atmosphere is thick and the weather warm and sultry.

3 o'clock. A. M.—The excite is somewhat quelled, but since the shake at 2:15 the people evince no desire to retire, but remain in the streets, discussing the probability of the recurrence of another disaster similar to that of the 21st of October.

THE SOUTHERN OUTRAGES.

DEMOPOLIS, Oct. 20.—While we were canvassing Choctaw and Sumter counties, several daring attempts were made by armed mobs to assassinate us. We were threatened with hanging in Choctaw, and at Gaston, in Sumpter, the carriage containing us was fired upon and hit several times. Double-barrel guns and revolvers were used. This occurred in the day time in the streets. We saved our lives by fast driving. The Republican canvassers have been similarly treated in other sections of the State. We can have no fair election in many counties without the presence of United States troops.

GEO. L. HARRINGTON,
Speaker House of Representatives.
F. L. PENNINGTON,
State Senator.

Mob Law in New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 28—Last night armed bands of Democrats patrolled the streets and negroes were shot down. The remaining Republican club rooms and some residences were sacked. Prominent Republicans were generally concealed. Large numbers have been killed here and in St. Bernard, and mob law has ruled, but no United States soldier has fired a gun.—This morning's newspapers demand the immediate resignation of the State officers, the departure of carpet baggers, and that laws which do not suit them shall be trampled under foot.—Gov. Warmouth does his duty nobly amid dangers and difficulties. This afternoon General Rousseau told the Police Board to remove Superintendent Williamson and appoint General Steadman, or take care of themselves. They complied, and Gen. Steadman is reorganizing the police by superseding the Republicans. The excitement is intense, but less demonstrative. This evening Gen. Rousseau publishes an address, saying that he will support Gen. Steadman in preserving the peace. Gen. Rousseau's course favors the revolutionists.

The Ku-Klux in Alabama.

Nashville, Tenn., Oct. 30.—The Ku-Klux are rampant in Northern Alabama. Last Wednesday an armed body of the villains, numbering twenty, went to Judge Carleton's in Somerville, threatened to burn the house and murder the Judge. He escaped through the window, after being shot at twice. Wm. Bean, in the same house, was shot at but escaped. The room of Robert Earmer, deputy Sheriff, was broken into, but the villain fled when fired upon with a shot gun. The Ku Klux then went to the house of C. A. Welch, circuit clerk, and forced him to give them such indictments as they desired. Negroes are killed in Northern Alabama and Georgia almost nightly.

Further from New Orleans.

New Orleans, Oct. 30—Every thing is quiet to-day. Gen. Steadman last night withdrew his resignation as Superintendent of the Metropolitan Police force.

To-day an injunction was taken in the 5th District Court, by the Metropolitan Police Commissioners, restraining the Mayor from establishing a police force, on the ground that it will bring about a collision.

The Republican of this evening has a leader indicating an intention to have the electoral vote of this State thrown out by Congress, if possible.—It advises Republicans to vote wherever they can, without reasonable apprehension of being subjected to personal violence; but says, we are certain that if every possible effort should be made, it would be an impossibility to poll one half the real Republican vote of the State. It also says, there are tribunals of appeal beyond the mobs of Louisiana, and to them we can go with full confidence of redress for grievances

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

BY JOHN W. GEARY, GOVERNOR.

Unto God, our Creator, we are indebted for life and all its blessings. It, therefore, becomes us at all times to render unto Him the homage of grateful hearts; and in the performance of our sacred duties, to set apart special periods to "enter into His gates with thanksgiving and unto His courts with praise." For this purpose, in accordance with an established custom, I have designated THURSDAY, the 26th day of NOVEMBER next; and I recommend that the people of this Commonwealth on that day to refrain from their usual avocations and pursuits, and assemble at their chosen places of worship, to "praise the name of God and magnify Him with thanksgiving;" devoutly to acknowledge their dependence, and lay upon His altars the cheerful offerings of grateful hearts.

Let us thank Him with Christian humility for health and prosperity; abundant harvests; the protection of commerce, and advancement of scientific, mechanical and manufacturing interests; our progress in education, morality, virtue and social order; the increase of our material wealth; exemption from pestilence and contagious diseases and the destructive influences of war; for having blessed us as a people and a nation, and opened before us the brightest prospects for the future; and for all other blessings, both temporal and spiritual.

With sure reliance upon Divine favor let us pray for the forgiveness of our sins, making public confession of our dependence, that we may continue worthy of His parental love and protecting care; that our civil and religious liberties and political rights may remain unimpaired; that we may remember with gratitude our country's brave defenders, and cherish with sympathy their widows and orphan children; and that our paths through life may be directed by the example and instructions of the Redeemer, who died that we might enjoy all the blessings which temporarily flow therefrom, and eternal life in the world to come.

Given under my Hand and the great Seal of the State, at Harrisburg, this twenty-eighth day of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight, and of the Commonwealth the ninety-third.

JNO. W. GEARY.

By the Governor:
F. JORDAN,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

LOCAL & PERSONAL.

Brief Items.

Sourcrout stampers are now in demand.—Bro Traugh, hold your nose.

The 25th of this month is Thanksgiving day—four weeks after comes Christmas.

A wheelbarrow bet was carried into execution in Altoona the other day.

The interesting political editorials of our exchanges have been discontinued.

The corner-stone of a new Catholic church was laid at Bedford last week.

The weather prognosticatros already prophesy we will have a severe winter.

If short dresses are again to be the rage, as we see by an exchange, what are we to do for street-sweepers?

A new school-house for the children of Portstown and Smithfield is being erected near the new bridge.

We had a heavy rain storm here on Saturday night last. The rain came down in torrents and the streets were flooded.

The editor of the Altoona Tribune was presented with an editorial chair which he says was just in place—where else ought it to be?

Street-crossings are being laid in this borough. Messrs. Potter & Johnson furnish the stone, and the Street Commissioner, Mr. Hight, is putting them down.

A Catholic Fair is to be commenced in Altoona on the 9th inst. A set of surgical instruments is to be voted for, in behalf of the most popular M. D. in the county.

The Juniata Valley Democrat, after existing for five weeks, has been sold to a party at Newport, and a neutral paper is to be published there.

The potato crop in this section is said to have yielded remarkably well—and many bushels have been taken to Altoona. One dollar a bushel is the price paid here.

A vein of lead ore has been found near Hollidaysburg, by Mr. James Malone, a piece of which was smelted by F. B. Isett, and found to contain about 80 per cent. of lead.

A piece of General George Washington's first carriage was exhibited at the Hollidaysburg fair; also, a German bible printed in 1533, and a quilt made 103 years ago.

A wagon and horses were upset in a road in Cambria county recently, and a young man named Peter Kinney who was in the wagon was killed. His mother escaped injury.

Some of the sporting ones in Altoona have made preparations to have a skating pond in that place. If that isn't big enough for them they should emigrate here and we will loan them the Juniata.

Two droves of sheep from Indiana county passed through here on Saturday last. It made us think of the "good old times" when drovers flourished and railroads were not thought of.

William Hileman, of Frankstown, Blair county, who had his collar-bone broken by being thrown out of his wagon when coming into this place, a week or two since, we understand is getting well.

Our young friend John M. Cunningham is now at Bloody Run, Bedford county, where he has stuck out his shingle as a dentist. We wish him success. We understand that De-Witt Zeigler, another Huntingdonian, and dentist, is meeting with success in Ebensburg.

We were pained to learn that our friend Mr. A. J. Reilly, now in Williamsburg, Blair county, had one of his hands severely burned recently in his noble and successful endeavor to save from death a young lady of that place, whose clothing had taken fire.

We have just received three fonts of beautiful type and are now prepared to execute in city style any kind of printing from a full-sheet poster to an envelope card. Our business men who send their patronage abroad should make a note of this. Try us once.

We have received the first numbers of the Philipsburg Journal published by Jerome C. Dutcher and Ed. H. Ellsworth. It is a neat and spicy seven column paper, and professes to be neutral, but we last week detected a few items from the Altoona Vindicator, which show which way their noses point.

On Monday a week Mr. Adam Rowland, a farmer residing in Franklin county, was brutally murdered in his bed by the side of his wife, having been struck on the side of the face and head with a club. A man named Lewis Snider and Mrs. Rowland were placed under arrest, upon suspicion.

Professor Day, a colored divine, preached in the Methodist church of this place, on Sunday last, morning and evening. He impressed his hearers with his eloquence, and we have no doubt that many an individual's prejudicial belief that nothing sensible can come from a colored man, was happily removed.

Small debts if not paid in time gradually grow into larger ones—and one year's subscriptions to your county paper gradually increase to two year's, if you neglect to pay promptly at the end or beginning of each year. Friends, make a note of this, and don't let your small debts creep into larger ones.

A strong-minded woman in Johnstown, finding out that her husband was going to vote a mixed ticket marched up to the polls with him and made him vote a "straight" ticket. She then dismissed him with a few parting words of advice, which were better relished by the crowd than by the hen-pecked husband.

Mr. Isaac Hildebrand, of Huntingdon, says an exchange, has been appointed mail agent on the Penna. Railroad between Huntingdon and Altoona. This is a mistake. He has been appointed mail agent between Harrisburg and Altoona. The appointment is a first-rate one. Previous experience and natural aptness qualify him for the position.

We are in regular receipt of the Printer's Circular, a monthly journal, published by R. S. Mcnamin, 515 Minor street, Philada. It is a neat journal, and a credit to the craft of whom Mr. M., whom we personally know, is a good specimen, and we can commend him to the fraternity in general, when they need anything in their line.

In a recent canvass of the passengers of a railroad train in Connecticut, the person who was making it sportively asked a grim, solemn old lady which way she would vote.—She didn't understand his question: Are you for Grant or Seymour, repeated he. "Grant-ersegmart" replied the indignant female, "Don't know any such place; I am going to Norwich."

Col. J. J. Lawrence has resigned the Superintendency of the Erie and Pittsburgh Railroad. As a testimonial of their regard and respect, the employees of the road surprised him by the gift of an elegant gold watch and chain, with a beautifully engraved Maltese cross attached. Col. Lawrence was formerly Supt. of the Huntingdon & Broad Top Railroad, and is personally and favorably known to many of our citizens.

A correspondent of the Ebensburg Alleghanian says that a melancholy affair occurred at the Summit on Sunday morning. A Mrs. Otterson, who had come to that place from California about four weeks ago, after getting up in the morning, deliberately fastened one end of a bedcord to the bedpost, and secured the other around her neck, and hanged herself till she was dead. She was found in a sitting position, cold and stiff in death. Temporary insanity is assigned as the cause of the rash act. The deceased was about 65 years old, and was in comfortable circumstances. She resided at the Summit a number of years before going to California.

Halloween.

Saturday evening last, the last day of October, was Halloween, and was as usual observed by the boys in making use of cabbage heads to batter people's doors, etc. The ancient observance of this day has passed out of practice. Americans are too practical to think of observing "days" and they come and go almost unregarded. The origin of its observance is thus explained:

The festival of All Saints' Day had its origin in the dedication by Pope Boniface IV, in the year 607, of the famed temple called the Rotunda.—Built long before by Marcus Agrippa, the favorite of Augustus, the temple had been used as a place of reception for idols of the many mythological gods. In 408 Theodosius the Younger, the great Iconocast, in his zeal cast them all from the portals of the building, and afterwards the rulers of the Christian Church purified it, and converted it into a place of worship of the true God. It was then dedicated, as mentioned, by Boniface to the honor of the Blessed Virgin and all the martyrs. In the year 731 the festival come to be regularly celebrated at Rome. Extending thence all over Christendom, it has from that time to this known no interruption. Losing, too, its peculiar and intimate connection with the Roman Catholic Church, it is now regarded and observed with reverence by the members of most all Protestant denominations. The first day of November becoming thus a general feast day among all classes of Christians, in course of time it came to pass that the evening preceding—evening of the last day of October—was also celebrated under the name of "All Hallow'Eve." Anciently, the singularly superstitious, and to us of to day singularly ludicrous belief was entertained that this evening was the one on which the great Devil, accompanied by all his little devils, was most likely to visit the earth for the purpose of venting his spleen against the many saints whose festival was so near at hand. Now, in modern times, of course all these superstitions have passed away, and the "Eve" is observed, at least by the juvenile folks, rather by the blowing of horns, the pounding of doors, the ringing of bells, and the poping of corn grains, than by any solemn and mystical rites.

A Farmer Swindled.

Some time in the month of August last, a stranger came to the premises of Mr. Elisha Shoemaker, a farmer residing near the Warm Springs in this county, and upon seeing him the stranger showed him a book in which were columns headed wheat, rye, corn, etc., at the same time telling him that he was authorized to take an average yield of each product for the year. Mr. Shoemaker gave him all the desired information, and at the conclusion the stranger told him to write his name at the bottom of the blank page at the right hand corner, which he did. The stranger then left, and Mr. Shoemaker thought nothing more of the circumstance until last week, when he received a notice from the First National Bank of this place that a note for $95 was about due. Knowing that he had not given any note for this amount, he at once investigated the subject when to his chagrin he found that his agricultural "friend" had swindled him. The note was written by the stranger on the blank page above the name after he left Mr. Shoemaker, and was cashed by a gentleman in town who supposed the note genuine. Of course, nobody knows where the stranger went to, but he has left his record behind him, and perhaps Mr. S. is not the only one he has swindled in this manner.

Governor Seymour on the Swing.

We had the extreme felicity, together with a host of Republicans and some Democrats, of awaiting the arrival of Governor Seymour and suite in a special train on Thursday afternoon of last week. He was coming from Pittsburg and was going to Reading, and along the route he was called on to "speak his piece." So it was here, and the Governor, (who by the way, is not a very bad looking man, if we give him time to clean off the dust and dirt of travel,) addressed the crowd that had assembled to hear him. We have not his speech, but it was short and "honey dew" vote for me. The crowd cheered—the Democrats because it was their man who was talking, and a few Republicans helped them because they thought he stood in need of it—and Gov. Seymour vanished in the direction of Berks county.

A New Road.

The route for a new Road has been *surveyed from this place to Wilson*town, situated north-west about eight-and-a-half miles. The early completion of this road is a desideratum of our citizens, as the rich productions of the upper end can be brought direct to Huntingdon, whereas now they go elsewhere. And who knows but at some future day, the road now surveyed will be the ground over which the iron horse will steam? Things which seemed more impossible than this have been accomplished, and why not this? This is too fast an age to say that such a thing wont be done, for it might be before the 4th of July, 1876.

☞The Union Republican meetings at Tyrone City Friday afternoon and evening last, were spirited affairs. The delegation from Warriorsmark, this county, numbered in the neighborhood of two hundred and fifty, with banners, etc. Sinking Valley, Blair county, turned out a delegation of over three hundred, and took the flag. The procession reminded us of the Harrison campaign. We were particularly pleased with the fine turn out from the upper end of our own county. The illumination of the buildings in the evening was very good.

Court.

Monday next Court commences. We hope our friends will not forget our standing invitation to drop in and see us; our subscription books are open to receive subscribers and our purse is open to receive payments. Those who have taken the Globe for the campaign will lose nothing by taking it for the year, which promises to be an eventful one.

☞Spend your money where you make it. Buy your goods at home and not abroad. Encourage your own mechanics. Let each be for the other, and all for public improvement—"charity begins at home." Our town first—others afterwards.

☞When the Plantation Bitters were first made known to the American people some seven years ago, it was supposed they were an entirely new thing, and had never before been used. So far as their general use in the United States is concerned, this may be true. It is also true that the same Bitters were made and sold in the Island of St. Thomas over forty years ago, as any old planter, merchant or sea captain doing business with the West Indies will tell you. It is distinctly within my recollection that on the return of my father (who was a sea captain, and doing an extensive trade in the tropics,) he would invariably have the Bitters among the ship's stores, and our family sideboard was never without them. For any sickness, it matters not how severe or trifling, the decanter of these Bitters, by a different name, was always resorted to as a sovereign remedy. It

☞Now Ready! For 1869! The Illustrated Annual of Phrenology and Physiognomy, containing nearly fifty portraits of distinguished characters—Civilized and Savage; is published.—true basis of Education; uses of Culture; How to study Faces; a Convention of the Faculties; Nature's Noblemen; Eminent Clergymen; Power of Example; Choice of Pursuits, or what can I do Best; Mirthfulness, Wit, Humor, with Illustrations; Heads of Victor Cousin, Hepworth Dixon; Wilkie Collins, Rev. John Cummings, author and prophet; Blind Tom; Artemus Ward; Alex. Dumas; Mrs. Ritchie, Mr. Julian; with Indians, Cannibals, and others. Richer in Matter and Illustration, than ever before, everybody will want to read it. Only 25 cents S. R. Wells, Publisher, 289 Broadway, New York.

☞A meeting of the friends of Grant and Colfax was held in the Court House on Thursday night last. The Tanners were out and paraded the streets before the meeting. Captain Arms of Lewistown, and Seth T. Hurd of Brownsville, addressed the crowd, and their speeches were highly appreciated.

☞A meeting of the Red Men's Mutual Life Insurance, will be held in the Red Men's Wigwam, on Thursday evening, November 5th. A full attendance is requested; business of importance to be transacted.

J. O. GIPPLE, President,
A. B. FLOOD, Secretary.

☞The election in the West Ward on the 27th for a change of place for holding the election, from the Court House to the residence of John Foster in said ward resulted as follows: change to Foster's 80 votes, to remain at the Court House, 6 votes.

Accidentally Killed.

Mr. Philip Pheasant, Hotel keeper at Cassville, was accidentally killed yesterday at the bridge crossing the Juniata near Mill Creek. His wagon upset over an embankment, throwing him under the wagon and breaking his neck.

☞Just the place to live well—at E. C. Summer's Oyster Saloon in the Diamond Ladies and gentlemen will find full tables on second story. All the fixins to make prime oysters take well. Call and try the new saloon.

☞$10.000.00. The snug sum of Ten Thousand Dollars has been paid to three families since February last, at the Huntingdon Agency of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, by our townsman Dr. R. A. Miller.

☞Glazier & Bro. are this week opening a large and well assorted stock of Winter goods which they will sell very low as they purchased since the late decline. Read their price list and new advertisement. 21-3t

What makes your hair so beautiful? Mrs. S A. Allen's Improved (new style) Hair Restorer or Dressing, (in one bottle) Price One Dollar. Every Druggist sells it.

☞A special meeting of the Y. M. C A. will be held on Friday evening next at 8 o'clock. A Prayer Meeting will be held in their room on Sunday afternoon next at 4 o'clock. Come.

☞The Republicans were jubilant last night over the news. The Democrats crowed over Kentucky.

☞There will be preaching in the German Reform Church, Sunday night 8th of November.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT.—Benjamin Mishler, in a card published in the Lancaster (Pa.) Express, noticing an imitation of Mishler's Herb Bitters, made by his son Henry L. Mishler, says: "I, therefore, publicly declare that Henry L. Mishler does not know anything of the method of manufacturing Mishler's Herb Bitters; that the preparation made by him is a base counterfeit imitation, and that when Henry L. Mishler, or his agents, represent their mixture to be Mishler's Herb Bitters they are IMPOSTORS, and I trust that Dr. S. B. Hartman & Co., (my successors,) will prosecute them, assuring the community that no effort shall be spared on my part to bring the offenders to Justice." Observe that the Bottle offered for sale bears Stoeckle's Graduated Scale of Doses, blown in the Glass, and has an Internal Revenue Stamp with engraved likeness of Benjamin Mishler over the Cork. None other is genuine. no4-1m

SHERIFF'S SALE.—By virtue of sundry writs of Vend. Expo. Fi. Fa., directed to me I will expose to public sale or outcry, at the Court House, in the Borough of Huntingdon, on M.-NDAY, the 9TH of NOVEMBER, 1868, at 2 o'clock, P. M., the following described property to wit:

All that certain lot of ground situate in the village of Coffee Run, Lincoln township, being 80 feet in front and 50 feet in rear and width and 100 feet deep, the outside angle forming a line 130 feet long, and in the recorded plan of said village made by J. Simpson Africa, Esq., 30th May, 1855, being Lot No. 8, having thereon a new frame store house, blacksmith shop, &c.

Also, all that certain piece and parcel of land in the village of Coffee Run, Lincoln township, being Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 in the plan of said village made by J. Simpson Africa, Esq., on the 30th and 31st days of May 1855, each of said Lots being 60 feet in width and 100 feet in length, being adjacent to and west of the Huntingdon & Broad Top Mountain Railroad, adjoining Lot No. 5 on the south and on the west and north adjoining land of John Beaver, having thereon a wagon shed, corn crib; &c.

Also, all that certain other lot of ground in the village of Coffee Run, Lincoln township, being Lot No. 5 in the plan of said town, made by J. Simpson Africa, Esq., on the 30th May 1855, lying on the west side of the Broad Top Railroad, being 50 feet in width and extending back 115 feet to an alley 12 feet wide, containing one-fourth of an acre more or less, adjoining land of John Beaver on the north west. Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 on the east and north, the Broad Top Railroad on the east, and other land of Simon Cohn on the south, having thereon a two story frame dwelling house, frame stable, &c.

Also, all that certain piece and parcel of land situate in Lincoln township, bounded and described as follows, to wit: Beginning at a post on the line of land formerly of John Hagey, the race along said land south 45¾ degrees east 35 perches and 81-100 of a perch to a stone heap, thence by land of John Beaver north 65¼ degrees west 42 and 1-100 perches to a post at the Broad Top Railroad, thence along the same being a curve of two degrees the cord of the arc bears south 22 degrees 10 minutes west, and distance along said railroad 53 perches to a post, thence north 70¾ perches to the place of beginning, containing twenty acres more or less, according to the draft made by J. Simpson Africa, Esq., 30th May 1855, excepting Lots Nos. 1, 2, 3, 5 and 8 from this description and included in other conveyances to John Fulton, Mrs. Foster and Simon Cohn. Seized, taken in execution and to be sold as the property of Simon Cohn.

Also, one hundred and fifty-one and a half acres of land more or less, situate in Hopewell township, Huntingdon county, being the lower or north-eastern half (as divided and the division line marked on the ground by David Shreves, Surveyor,) of the following described tract of land, to wit: Beginning at a white oak on the bank of the Raystown Branch of the Juniata river; thence south 41 degrees west 32 perches to a red oak; thence west 82 and six tenths perches to a stone heap, thence south 15 degrees west 147 perches to a dog wood, thence south 80 degrees west 100 perches to a white oak, thence south 3 degrees west 21 perches to a maple on the bank of said river, thence down said river by the several courses thereof 639 and eight-tenths perches to the place of beginning, containing 303 acres and allowance, about 90 acres of which are cleared, and having thereon a log house, log barn, &c., and being the same premises which Margaret Hamilton by deed dated 16th November 1855, recorded in the Recorder's office of Huntingdon county in Record Book L, No. 2, page 647, conveyed to defendant. Seized, taken in execution and to be sold as the property of George C. Hamilton.

Also, all the right, title and interest of the defendants and each of them in and to that certain farm or tract of land situate in the township of Henderson, in the county of Huntingdon and State of Pennsylvania, containing 342 acres and 125 perches more or less, known as the Vandevander tract, adjoining lands of Jos. Steel, William Mundorf, John Wolf kill, Simon Baugle and Lewis Bergans, having thereon a dwelling house, shop and other buildings; part of tract cleared and cultivated.

Also, another tract of land situate in Barree township, containing 350 acres more or less, composed principally of a survey in name of Wm. Michenor, bounded by lands of John Hall, John Steel, David Grove, Samuel Feightal and others; large part of the tract cleared and cultivated. Seized, taken in execution and to be sold as the property of solomon Silknitter, B. L. silknitter, John Silknitter, and John Silknitter, Jr.

NOTICE TO PURCHASERS.—Bidders at Sheriff's Sales will take notice that immediately up n the property being knocked down, fifty per cent. of all bids under $100, and twenty-five per cent. of all bids over that sum, must be paid to the Sheriff, or the property will be set up again and sold to other bidders who will comply with the above terms.

If court continues two weeks deed acknowledged on Wednesday of second week. One week's court, property knocked down on Monday and deed acknowledged the following Saturday.

THANKSGIVING DAY.

Proclamation by the President---Thursday November 26, the day appointed.

A PROCLAMATION.

In the year which is now drawing to its end the art, the skill and the labor of the people of the United States have been employed with greater diligence and vigor, and on broader fields than ever before, and the fruits of the earth have been gathered into the granary and the storehouse in marvelous abundance, our highways have been lengthened, and new and prolific regions have been occupied. We are permitted to hope that the long protracted political and sectional discussions are at no distant day to give place to returning harmony and fraternal affection throughout the Republic. Many foreign States have entered into liberal agreements with us, while nations which are far off, and which heretofore have been unsocial and exclusive have become our friends. The annual period of rest which we have reached in health and tranquility, and which is crowned with many blessings, is by universal consent a convenient and suitable one for cultivating personal piety and practicing public devotion.

I, therefore, recommend that Thursday, November 26th, be set apart and observed by all the people of the United States as a day of public praise, thanksgiving and prayer to the Almighty Creator and Divine Ruler of the Universe, by whose ever-watchful, merciful and gracious Providence alone, States and nations, no less than families and individuals, men do live and have their being.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this 12th day of October, in the year of our Lord, 1868, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-third.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the President:
WILLIAM H. SEWARD,
Secretary of State.

Sewing Machines,

Received the only GOLD MEDAL at the PARIS EXPOSITION, 1867.

They are adapted to all kinds of Family Sewing and to the use of Seamstresses, Dressmakers, Tailors, Manufacturers of Shirts, Collars, Skirts, Cloaks, Mantillas, Clothing, Hats, Caps, Corsets, Linen Goods, Umbrellas, Parasols, etc. They work equally well upon silk, linen, woolen and cotton goods, with silk, cotton or linen thread. They will seam, quilt, gather, hem, fell, cord, braid, bind, and perform every species of sewing, making a beautiful and perfect stitch, alike on both sides of the article sewed.

The qualities which recommend them are:

1. Beauty and excellence of stitch, alike on both sides of the fabric sewed.
2. Strength, firmness and durability of seam, that will not rip nor ravel.
3. Economy of Thread.
4. Attachments and wide range of application to purposes and materials.
5. Completeness and elegance of model and finish.
6. Simplicity and thoroughness of construction.
7. Speed, ease of operation and management, and quietness of movement.

Ayer's
Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a nothing else can be found so desirable. Containing neither oil nor dye, it does not soil white cambric, and yet lasts long on the hair, giving it a rich glossy lustre and a grateful perfume.

HAIR DRESSING,

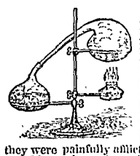
Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.



The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures; many of which are truly marvellous. Invetcrate cases of Scrofulous disease, where the system seemed saturated with corruption, have been purified and cured by it. Scrofulous affections and disorders, which there are aggravated by the scrofulous contamination until they were painfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the livery, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, cure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Eyes, Sore Ears, and other eruptions or visible forms of Scrofulous disease. Also in the more concealed forms, as Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and the various Uterine affections of the muscular and nervous systems.

Syphilitic or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. But long continued use of this medicine will cure the complaint. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Female Weaknesses, Ulcerations, and Female Diseases, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by its purifying and invigorating effect. Minute Directions for each case are found in our Almanac, supplied gratis. Rheumatism and Gout, when caused by accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, yield quickly to it, as also Liver Complaints, Torpidity, Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and Jaundice, when arising, as they often do, from the rankling poisons in the blood. This SARSAPARILLA is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are Languid and Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and troubled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or any of the affections symptomatic of Weakness, will find immediate relief and convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial.

FOR PROMOTING THE GROWTH, BEAUTIFYING THE HAIR,

And rendering it dark and glossy. No other compound possesses the peculiar properties which so exactly suit the various conditions of the human hair. The use of this oil as a hair dresser has been universal in every section of the country in the Spanish Main for centuries.—No preparation of art could give that elegant luxuriance and abundance of hair which have so often been the admiration of travelers in Spain. This oil is highly and delicately perfumed, forming an article unrivaled in excellence and upon which the Spanish people for many years have set its seal of enduring approval.

McGUIRE'S

Mexican Wild Flowers Shampoo Lotion

For removing dandruff and scurf from the head, whitening and perfuming the skin. This article is entirely different from anything of the kind ever offered in this country and is warranted free from all poisonous substances. This valuable lotion was used by the Emperor Maximilian, and Empress Carlotta of Mexico, and universally used by Mexicans for three hundred years. As a wash for the head—it is cooling, cleansing and refreshing.—When thus used it at once relieves headach.

McGUIRE'S

WILD FLOWERS FOR THE TEETH.

All those who are in favor of white teeth and a pleasant and perfumed breath, should at once use McGuire's Wild Flowers for the Teeth. All these preparations are put up in the most elegant and ornamental manner. We make no exception in saying that they are an ornament to a lady's toilet table, and none complete without them.

Warranted satisfactory or money refunded. Dealers will bear this in mind. Sold by all respectable Druggists in the United States and Canadas. Address orders to
